

CATCHES LIVE WIRE

This morning about 9:30 Mr. Oscar DeLoach, an electrician in the employ of the Dothan Plumbing and Electric Company, was caught by a live wire at the corner of West Main and Lena street and was severely shocked and burned while doing repair work for the city.

Mr. DeLoach came very near losing his life. He was trying to get a wire supplied to be dead over some blinds. He jumped and struck the wire to knock it over. The wire was charged and when his hand struck it the current contracted it about the wire and he could not turn loose. Mr. DeLoach tried to kick himself loose but was too fat to get to the wire. Two men hastily secured a long plank and pulled the wire out of his hand. Mr. DeLoach fell across the street before they succeeded.

Mr. DeLoach soon recovered from the shock, but his hand is severely burned. It was a close call.

The above accident only goes to show just what condition the city electric system is in. The wire which came so near killing Mr. DeLoach was the one current wire and no current was turned on it at the power house. But the lines are in such bad shape that the danger from the primary wires charged this wire sufficient to have killed Mr. DeLoach if he had not been rescued promptly as was the case.

REVIVAL AT COLUMBIA

News from Columbia states that the meeting being conducted by Rev. W. P. Hurt is growing in interest at each service. The church has been greatly blessed and many outside the church have been converted and a number have joined. The universal testimony is that Columbia has never heard a more faithful and more powerful presentation of the fundamental truths of the gospel.

Dr. Hurt returns very much fatigued but is compelled to leave the meeting just now when he promises a large congregation is so great but feels that his duty to his own people requires his presence in his own pulpit Sunday. He will return from Columbia Saturday and hopes to see every member of his congregation present at the morning and evening services.

WILLING WORKERS MEET

The Willing Workers Society will hold an important meeting in the ladies' parlor of the First Baptist church Monday afternoon at 4:30. All the members are urged to be present.

DEATH OF LITTLE GIRL

Little Ruth, the 9-year-old daughter of Mrs. F. M. Adkins, who lives two miles southwest of town, died last night. She was operated on Monday for appendicitis. She is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Shelby of 23 Washington street.

MEETING POSTPONED

Owing to the inclement weather last night, the meeting of the Commercial Club was postponed until Monday night. Let every member be on hand Monday night as new officers are to be elected and many important matters of great interest are to come up. Mr. Hochinger will speak on immigration at this meeting.

INSTALLATION SERVICE

Dothan Chapter No. 113 will have an installation service tonight at the Masonic hall. A large attendance is desired.

WOULD LOOK BETTER

The first thing the business houses do every morning is to sweep out and clean up their stores. This is done every morning except Sunday morning and as a result the town looks worse Sundays than any other day in the week, when we are liable to have visitors.

The merchants ought to have their places cleaned up late Saturday night and the trash packed away. The Sunday streets would then present a different appearance.

For fear some reader may not get all the state papers and not willing to waste anything they may have had to say about their city the Dothan papers are copying the leading articles inspired

SHOT MAN AT WORK

Ozark, July 9.—Ed Ingram sent a load of buckshot crashing through the brain of Walter Brooks on the Sessions plantation five miles west of Ozark, at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Ingram immediately came to the city and gave himself up to Sheriff Andrews and is confined in the county jail to await the preliminary hearing.

Ingram claims that Brooks was interfering with his family and also had threatened to kill him, whereupon he took a breech-loading shotgun and went to the field where Brooks was plowing and shot him down.

by the recent visit of the state editors. With three hunting papers—the Eagle, the Safeway and the Journal, all pulling together and every citizen shouting to the editors "go it boys—count us in" how could the town keep from growing? The secret of Dothan's progress is unity of purpose—Guntersville Democrat.

Dothan's hundred dollars has already been won by Joe Adams, editor of the Ozark Star, but of course sometimes a man wins a thing and then fails to get it. The first man that has a better article than the one in the Star last week in regard to Dothan on past present and future then we want to see it. The reproduction of the letter from Amos written twenty years ago was worth the prize let alone the comments of the editor of the Star—Headland Post.

Telephone No. 119

Entered at the postoffice at Dothan, Alabama, as second-class mail matter.

Daily, for one year$5.00
(Every afternoon except Sunday)
Weekly, one year$1.00
(Published every Saturday)

Friday, July 9th, 1909.

The "Alabama Press" article published in yesterday's Eagle was taken from the Marion Standard, but we failed to give credit for it.

One of the big railroads running out of New York had a few ticks about poor accommodation for ladies on the train, so it put on a special ladies car. The conductor wouldn't let any one on that car but women. This was to keep them from being in a car where there were a lot of rough men, but the thing proved a failure, and the other day the car was taken off for lack of patronage. The women preferred to sit in the other cars with mixed passengers, even though it was a thorough mixture, from the foreigner smelling of garlic and deer tongue, to the negro smelling of onions and June bugs.

FIFTY YEARS OLD.

The postoffice of Dothan, Alabama is fifty years old, going on fifty-one. In fact it will be fifty-one this fall.

Considering that the town is counted only a little over twenty years old, this statement about the postoffice is hard to believe to those who have had a hankering to look into such things. As for ourselves, we have always had a hankering to know all about Dothan that is possible. So much were we interested, till we went to the trouble a little over a year ago to get up the pictures of all the mayors the town ever had since it was incorporated. We even went back to the old Henry county records, and got the paper, the petition the citizens of this town signed, asking the judge of probate to call an election to see whether or not the place could be incorporated. After showing the pictures of all the mayors, it occurred to us that we ought to find out something about the postoffice. Some of the older citizens told us that it was once Poplar Head. We took the matter up with the postoffice department at Washington, and put the question up to them. When was Dothan postoffice in Henry county, Alabama, created? The department said August 28, 1871, and that was what we stood by. The department further said that there had never been a Poplar Head postoffice.

When this statement was published, one man, an old citizen, old us that the department must have been wrong. Said he had seen a letter, only a few years ago, written by a soldier from Virginia, back to a woman living in this section, informing her that her husband had been killed in battle, during the war. That was so far back for our records, but he said he couldn't be mistaken. For he had the letter, it being used to substantiate the woman's claims for a pension only a few years ago. This got our fates mixed, and we were never fully satisfied but that a Dothan had existed in or about here, before the year 1871. Then came a report from Dale county, from one old citizen, to the effect that the postoffice had once been in Dale. It was generally understood, that the postoffice had been moved all over this section of the country, that the postoffice of the country, to any man's house they could find who would look after the office, for there wasn't much mails in those days.

So we again took it up with the postoffice department, and requested that they look way over in exhibit A, and see if a Dothan postoffice in Dale county, Alabama had ever existed, and if so when it was established, and the postmaster. Very promptly the reply came, through the assistance of Uncle Henry Clayton. There had been a Dothan in Dale, and it was established way back in 1858, and lived a sort of dog's life till 1866, when it died, surrounded by but a few friends.

It was laid to rest, and nothing was said about a postoffice for this section of Alabama, till the South began to rebuild, and the natives of this section saw they needed a postoffice again. It was at this period the office was re-established, but this time, put just over the line, in Henry county. So here are the list of all the postmasters, from the first to the last:

Duncan R. Stevender, October 18, 1858.
Stephen Lee, June 25, 1860 to '66 (when it was discontinued).
Re-established, John W. Hays, August 28, 1871.
James H. Hooten, October 30, 1874.
Thos. J. G. Clark, December 28, 1875.
James L. Hays, January 10, 1877.
Mary L. Hooten, April 2, 1877.
Mary F. Folkes, November 6, 1879.
James Z. E. Connelly, February 21, 1882.
John T. Keyton, February 5, 1889.
Rachel E. Booth, December 2, 1891.
Frank D. Smith, April 13, 1893.
Rachael E. Booth, November 26, 1897.
William W. Millikin, March 21, 1899.
Byron Trammell, July 30, 1904, and he holds it still.

So this shows all the postmasters filling the office from its creation, over a half a century ago, down to the present. Now we can all keep up with it.

It is gratifying to know also, that the man who said he had seen the letter written and received at Dothan postoffice during the war. He was right, and his name is W. J. Buxley, who has been here a long time and ought to know. Of course, at that time, the office was just over the line in Dale county, but it was the office that supplied this territory. When it was re-established four years later, in 1871, it was put in Henry county, but at that time the man sending in the name spelled it "Dothen", and it ran along this way until the year 1897, when the spelling was changed back right to Dothan, which all knew it ought to be.

The old postoffice was spelled "Dothan". We can only draw upon our imagination as to the amount of mail matter received at the Dothan of old postoffice. It only got a mail once a week, with possibly not a dozen letters, for a period of nearly thirty years. A man could have put it in a very small hand-bag.

There's a difference now. There are about eighteen or twenty mail pouches a day, with some thing like 750 pounds of mail matter received at the office each twenty-four hours, to say nothing of the pouches that are transferred here, unopened.

LINEMAN IS KILLED

Columbus, Ga., July 10—Six like a piece of meat in a pan, the body of P. C. Trammell hung twenty minutes to live wires above the street today, while horrified spectators looked on helplessly to give aid.

Trammell, a telephone lineman, was at work on a pole when a telephone wire came in contact with a high tension cable that carried several thousand volts. He fell across the cables and there on the ground saw him shiver and cringe to the end the body hanging fully twenty minutes before being rescued.

When the body of Trammell was taken down he was dead.

New York, July 9—John D. Rockefeller today increased his donations to the general education board by a gift of $10,000,000 and also released the board from the obligation to hold in perpetuity the funds contributed by him.

The gift, announced today by Frederick T. Gates, chairman, brings Mr. Rockefeller's donation to the board to $52,000,000.

Today's gift was contributed, according to the statement made by Chairman Gates, because the income of the present fund available for appropriation had been exhausted and a larger income to the board was needed.

good reason for its existence and he has promised to take it into consideration in making Federal appointments. No possible advantage can accrue to the government or to the negro by endangering the success of the census and by needlessly insulting and embarrassing the Southern white people and we feel satisfied that when the matter is put up to the President he will recognize the wisdom of appointing only white enumerators. All negro officials are objectionable in the South and in proportion to the extent the whites have to do business with them. When it is the duty of a negro official to go into the household and demand information about the family he becomes both offensive and objectionable. We want no negro census enumerators in the South. POLYGAMIST ARRESTED

It was when he was Mrs. Alice Richardson told that she had been told the police had been obtained $900 from him in a promise of marriage.

He had a diamond ring from Mrs. Maude Allen by marriage and then a child by her.

Madison posed as a wealthy stock raiser. He was assisted by a partner who found women he thought would be susceptible to Madison's wiles. He would work for a friend who would look for a wife. He told wonderful stories of his friend's big mansion filled with Chinese servants in Los Angeles. If he was near the confederate would arrange correspondence between Madison and the woman. Madison would then seek a personal interview.

Woman Died from Shock of the Marriage

Springfield, Mass., July 9—Mary Brown of this city, believed to have been one of the victims of the alleged bigamist John Madison, died at Oxford in the spring of 1905, never having recovered from the shock of her ill-fated marriage.

She was about 48 years of age. In 1901 she married a man who presented himself as Christian Johnson, a wealthy ranchman of California.

Previous to her marriage she conducted a dressmaking business. In nearly every case he was in the woman to become his wife, Madison had false ceremonies performed.

Woman Says Madison Robbed Her of Funds

Iola, Kans., July 9—John Madison, under arrest in San Francisco on a charge of bigamy, did not marry Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson of Iola, but according to a statement made today by the woman who has since married a Professor Senbrook, he defrauded her out of about $2,000 under a promise of marriage.

According to Mrs. Senbrook's statement Madison urged her to go with him to Kansas City after relating stories of his supposed wealth and then persuaded her to surrender to him the proceeds of a sale of her home in this city.

In Kansas City while leading her to believe he was making preparations for their wedding Madison she says disappeared. Mrs. Senbrook said today that she would prosecute Madison.

Clayton, July 9—A heavy rain fell throughout this section yesterday afternoon. At this place the Episcopal church was struck by lightning which resulted in serious damage to the building. The roof and being badly wrecked and every one of the window lights were broken.

HIGH WIND IN PENSACOLA

Pensacola, July 9—Lightning did considerable damage during an electrical storm this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

It struck the power house of the Pensacola Electric Company, blowing up the machinery and toppling all over for over two hours. When service was resumed it was with machinery that could not carry all the cars and only half of the usual number of cars. It also struck the flag pole of S. B. A. No. 1 and damaged a small office in the north eastern part of the city slightly.

The wind attained a velocity during the storm of forty feet and one hour but no damage resulted from that source except that of small quantities of lumber blown to vessels in the harbor.

LEARNING TO SHOOT

A Pensacola couple who had been about ten or twelve years of age concluded that he was about his right age to learn to handle a pistol. They gave him one that he had hit the art of shooting. He shot out on the streets and sped a little girl about his face and scattered himself by the fence and when she came tripping along he ordered her to put up her hands. She didn't comply with his request promptly and he fired a 38 caliber through her. He will likely die and he is too little to punish and his parents are not responsible for their acts violently.
